

SEW To Feature Art Forms, Drama

Art and drama are the key words for Spiritual Emphasis Week, scheduled for Jan. 31-Feb. 5. This year's theme is "Bound to Be Free," according to Pastor Herman Diers, college chaplain.

The main subject matter for the week has to do with the nature of the church (community) in relationship to the individual and the tensions involved.

The opening address will be given by James Crane, head of the art Department, Wisconsin State College, River Falls, Wis.

His topic is "Requiem For Two Dots." In connection with the speech, pictures and art forms will be used.

Beginning Jan. 28 there will be an art show on campus of Crane's prints and drawings. The following Wednesday he will be present at a meeting to discuss his works.

"Five Finger Exercise," a three-act play written by Peter Shaffer, will be presented Jan. 31, Feb. 1 and 2 in connection with the week's observance.

In both the American and British reproductions, members of the cast won acting awards. Featured in the cast of the Wartburg production will be John Prigge, freshman, as

Director of the play is John Gill, Drama Director. Bonnie Loufek, junior, and Nancy Baker, sophomore, are assistant directors.

Chapel services during the week will be held at 6:30 p.m. Dr. James Fritschel, Music Department, will speak on Jan. 31, and on Feb. 1 a film will be shown.

Convo, the play and chapel will build toward the using of drama and art forms in connection with bondage.

L. David Brown Youth Director of The American Lutheran Church, is the main speaker for the week. He will speak at the church service Sunday and at convo on Monday and Tuesday.

Sunday evening he will lead a discussion on the implications of the play for the subject of the week.

Members of the student committee are senior Myrna Boyken, communications; sophomore Betty Kalkwarf, small group meetings; and sophomore Doug Langholz, arrangements.

No Model United Nations Because Interest Lacks

The Model United Nations planned for April 4-6 has been canceled.

Lack of interest was the primary reason for dropping the model U.N. project, an undertaking of the World Affairs Forum, according to senior Darrell Jobman, coordinator.

"It was and still is a real good idea, but there just isn't enough general interest on campus," said Jobman. "And I guess I've lost an awful lot of interest in the project, too, from when it started last spring."

The statement by Jobman said:

"It is the decision of the Model U.N. Committee of the World Affairs Forum to drop the proposed model U.N. scheduled for April 4-6.

"While the project has much value and would be an important addition to the campus, there does not seem to be enough interest on campus to merit the holding of a model U.N. this spring.

"Nearly one hundred students signed up for various delegations when the idea was put into action last spring. Plans were formulated and the project seemed to be on its way.

"However, with the failure of the other coordinator, Gary Miller, to return to school and the steady decline in people who wanted to be actively involved, the committee and I felt that it would be better to drop the project for this year and possibly try to get it firmly established in the future."

Jobman said that only about thirty of the eighty nations scheduled to be represented at the U.N. session had come to a briefing session held on two different nights after Thanksgiving vacation.

"As the interest on the part of most students began to dwindle, my interest went down," Jobman commented.

"That, combined with a heavy schedule and other activities, influenced my decision to drop the whole thing. If you can't do it well, there's no use doing it."

Plans called for having a three-day session with a convocation opening the event. Bloc meetings with foreign consuls and meetings of several committees, such as the Security Council, were planned for Friday with a general assembly session set for Saturday.

"For those who were really interested, it's too bad it had to end this way. I hope the idea is revived sometime," Jobman concluded.

Campus Chest Gets $668

Final total for Campus Chest was $668, as announced Wednesday by Co-chairmen Evan Bartelt and Jim Ollenburg, after receipts from Friday's dance had been totaled.

Solicitations before the dance totaled $607.90, and with the $60.10 made at the dance the final total was $668.

From this total $4.57 for various expenses was subtracted, along with $100 for the Student Memorial Fund. This left a total of $563.43 to be divided among the three charities.

World University Service received $253.54, Heart Fund

$169.02 and Waverly Community Chest $140.87.

The solicitors who collected the largest amount were junior Maxine Bauer, who collected $31.65 from the 36 women on Vollmer III, and senior Bill Wesender, who collected $35.50 from the 13 men in Alpha House.

Maxine and Bill received the special award pins sent out by World University Service for presentation to the high solicitors.

According to the chairmen, the drive was a success and they expressed the hope that it would be continued.

Curriculum To See Changes

By Paul Baumgarten

Several curriculum changes have been approved by the Educational Policies Committee, according to Dean of Faculty John O. Chellevoid.

Greatest amount of revision occurred in the English-Speech-Journalism Department.

Five courses have been dropped from the speech section. They are 202, Advanced Public Speaking; 252, Advanced Debate; 251, Debate; 302, Advanced Radio Program Techniques, and 301, Radio Program Techniques.

FOUR COURSES have been added. They are as follows: 253, Argumentation, a three-hour course; 254, Persuasion, also three hours; 206, Radio and Television, three hours; and 321, Studies in American Public Address, three credits.

Several courses have been changed in this section. These are in 305, Oral Interpretation changed from two to three credits; 264, Play Production, also raised from two to three, and 306, Discussion, from two to three.

Speech Correction, formerly listed as Speech 210, has been raised to the upper division and will be listed as 321.

Speech 315, Independent Study, a one to three-hour course, has been added, and the number of the honors course has been changed from 440 to 450.

DR. CHELLEVOID stated that the reason for the extensive revision of this department was to decrease the number of two-hour courses.

Others, he stated, were to be updated and some highly technical ones were dropped in favor of some more in harmony with a liberal arts curriculum.

Several changes were made in the English section of the department. Contemporary Literature, formerly English 207, has been combined with 208, The Short Story, to make a two-semester course, each of which will give three hours credit.

The new course will be called 20th Century Literature and will be numbered 311-312.

TWO CHANGES have also been made in the Journalism section. A two-hour course, numbered 210, to be called Public Opinion, Propaganda and Mass Media, has been added.

Journalism 304, High School Publications and Journalism Class, has been raised from a two- to a three-hour course.

Chellevoid also stated that the Educational Policies Committee had also formally changed the name of the Department of Christianity to the Department of Religion. This title appears in the second-semester schedules.

In other action, this committee approved the addition of Psychology 405, Experimental Psychology, which will carry one to three credit hours.

ADDED IN the Physical Education Department was P.E. 211S, Beginning Swimming, which will carry two hours of credit. Also added was 212S, Advanced Swimming, also two credits. The S at the end of the numbers indicates that these courses will be offered only in summer school.

Several changes have also been made in the Modern Languages Department. French 308, French Civilization, three credits, has been added. German 205-206 will become a one-semester course, to be numbered 206. German 207, German grammar, has been changed from a one to a two-credit course.

Added is 308, German Civilization, a three-hour course.

Final change is the addition of Spanish 201-202, Intermediate Spanish, a course offering two semesters of three credit hours each. The adoption of this course assumes a properly qualified faculty member can be found to teach the course.

'Brothers 4' Pops Choice

Brothers Four was the first choice for the Spring Pops Concert, according to Al Exner, Pops Concert chairman.

Second choice in the ballot conducted during Thursday's convocation was Peter, Paul and Mary and the third choice was the Limelighters.

Exner has contacted the managers and both the Brothers Four and the Limelighters have available dates of March 14 and April 29, 30. The only date open for Peter, Paul and Mary falls during Wartburg's spring vacation.

"It is probable that we will get the Brothers Four for March 14," said Exner. "The only trouble is with the scheduling because they have to be in New Orleans right after Wartburg."

A final decision should be reached within the next four or five days, according to Exner.

If the Brothers Four come they will charge $2,250 and tickets will be $2 and the price for the Limelighters is $2,500 and the tickets would be $2.50.

Two Coeds Reign As Royalty

By Kathy Plotter

Two Wartburg coeds, Barbara Bose and Rita Johnson, were selected as royalty during the past month. Barb was elected Pi Sigma Queen and Rita was named Fortress Queen.

A 5'6" blue-eyed brunette, Barb is a sophomore from Dumas, Tex., enrolled in the secondary education curriculum and majoring in English.

QUEEN RITA — Fortress queen Rita Johnson was announced in a surprise ceremony at the basketball game last week. With Rita is her date, Dave Van Ahn.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Bose and has four older brothers, all who attended Wartburg.

Barb is the sophomore class secretary and is a member of Pi Sigma, choir and Student Education Association. She is presently taking organ lessons and likes to knit in her spare time.

Crowned at the annual Christmas Turnabout dance, "Wonderland by Night," held Dec. 14, Miss Bose had freshmen Carol Lee and Sharon Oppermann as her attendants.

Rita Johnson, senior, was selected by the Fortress staff to reign as its queen. The announcement was made at the halftime of the Dubuque game here last Saturday.

She was tricked into getting dressed up for the game by her date, Dave Van Ahn, who had suggested that they do something special after the game.

According to Myrna Lau, Fortress associate editor, and Pat Reab, Fortress editor, who made the presentation, Rita will be entered in the Drake Relays queen contest in the spring. She was escorted to receive her presentation by junior Evan Bartelt of the Wartburg student publications.

Green-eyed, dark-haired Rita, whose home is Lake Mills, has been active in Student Education Association, Senate, Women's Athletic Association, Physical Education and Castle Singers, of which she was secretary. She also served as 1962 Homecoming attendant.

In addition to these activities, she may be found answering calls at the college switchboard. Along with an interest in music, this P.E. major enjoys a variety of sports when she has any spare time.

QUEEN BARB — Pi Sigma queen Barb Bose was crowned by president Marcia Rench at the Christmas dance. Attendants for the queen were freshmen Carol Lee and Sharon Oppermann.

EDITORIAL—

Exit '62 — Enter '63

Almost before the snow blew in Iowa, 1962 flew out and 1963 dawned in all its glory to whiz through another year with those spans of dragging lulls alternated with fast-moving hurricanes.

With 1962 out of the way there are few people (except the Trumpet editor) who bother to look back, but rather the nose is pointed to the future and what it holds in store.

While the future is important, perhaps more important than the past, it is interesting to note the highlights of the year of 1962 in the light of Wartburg College, with a view as to how they will be affecting the newly arrived year.

1962 saw several innovations for the students of Wartburg. Intramural debate was started to create more participation within the college. The first snow weekend was held last winter.

An all-college book was initiated, with the last years being "Cry, the Beloved Country" and this year's being the play "J.B."

Convocations, Artist Series, discussions and all types of programs saw an improvement over previous years.

Such guests as the Vienna Choir Boys, pianist Byran Janis, Dame Judith Anderson, the National Ballet of Canada, singer Grace Bumbry and the Foo Hsing Theatre on the Wartburg stage were certainly a treat.

Convocations on the block plan gave variety and gained interest and purpose covering such themes as astronomy, human relations, education and fine arts. A first at Wartburg was the convocation which featured the Castle Singers presenting a jazz mass during the fall.

The five-year expansion plan was instituted during 1962. This plan includes an increase of enrollment from 1,050 to 1,300, to up the faculty salary average by several thousand dollars and to construct three major facilities during the next five years.

Plans are under way for one of these construction projects, that of building an addition to the Student Union. Other construction is supposed to include a new science building and a men's dormitory.

Wartburg College was granted its own charter at the biennial convention of the American Lutheran Church in October. This will enable the college to apply for federal aid in some instances.

A study of the cafeteria was made by the Fund Fulfillment Corporation, the college consulting agency, during last year.

The American Lutheran Church College Conference was held here Mar. 30-Apr. 1 with about two hundred people attending.

Joint meeting of the 74th annual Iowa Academy of Science and the 30th annual Junior Academy was held on campus during April.

Wartburg Choir, under the direction of Dr. Edwin Liemohn, went on their 25th annual tour during the fall of the year.

Student Senate ably led the student body in government affairs. Perhaps the biggest undertaking of 1962 was the recent proposal and plan for the revision of women's hours at Wartburg. Though 1962 did not see the passage of this proposal, it is hoped that 1963 will bring its final passage.

Whether all or any of these happenings of 1962 will materialize, diminish or dissolve remains for the future to account for, but it can quite easily be asserted that this past year at Wartburg has done much to influence the future years of the college.

Latest decree from the higher echelon: NO semester break!

Time of prosperity is nearing — soon will come the returns from the summer job withholding tax.

Wonder why JFK trusted the Peace Corps to a mere in-law. After all, there is John Jr. . . .

One of these days they might even serve refreshments at the student body meetings.

FROM THE STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT

Election Change Investigated

By Dick Buchsteiner

Although the first semester is not quite over, the school year is passing rapidly and it will not be long before it is time to elect next year's student government officers.

Becoming a candidate for a student body officer is a big decision to make. Persons considering this should be making plans for the campaign and election which will take place next March.

The Student Senate is presently discussing the possibility of making a change in the present student body officer election procedures.

According to the Student Body Constitution the election is now conducted by having all candidates for student body president listed on a ballot. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes shall become student body president, and the one receiving the second highest number of votes shall become vice president.

Buchsteiner

In the past few years the student body has indicated a desire to have these two officers elected on separate ballots. This would make the vice president a winner of an election rather than a runner-up.

It would also give individuals who would be interested in serving as vice president a chance to acquire that office without running for president.

Presidential candidates may also be more numerous, since those running would not have to accept the vice presidency in case they came in second.

In order to change our election system for student body officers, the Student Body Constitution must be amended accordingly.

Such a change would generate more interest in the elections and also add prestige to the office of vice president. This position deserves more credit, especially since the vice president now serves as head of the Men's Coordinating Board in addition to his other duties.

This year's Senate is far from through with its work for the year, but it is necessary that the student body start thinking about electing next year's officers.

I would especially urge all juniors, male or female, who have a grade-point average of 2.5 or above, to start thinking about becoming candidates.

Members of the student body should start thinking about those individuals who they feel would make good officers for next year and encourage them to run.

Any persons interested in knowing more about the duties of a student body president or vice president will find Fred Dierks and me very happy to discuss our positions with you.

If you decide that you might consider running for student body president or vice president, I would appreciate hearing from you so that the Senate can make plans to change the Constitution if there is sufficient interest. Your intentions need not be definite as yet, and they will remain confidential.

KNIGHTMARES

1963 No Improvement, More Alphabetterment

By Mike Sherer

Poor Young 1963! It isn't one bit better off than its predecessors. Wars. Rumors of Wars. Income Tax. Homework. The only positive prediction you can safely make about this year is that taking all of its digits together, it adds up to more than 1962 did.

This is a good year to commemorate things that fell — like the city of Vicksburg (that fell 100 years ago in the War Between the States); like the French empire in North America (that fell 200 years ago in the Great War for the Empire); like Napoleon Bonaparte (who is reported to have created a dent in his bathtub in the process, after which he promptly sold Louisiana to Thomas Jefferson 159 years ago); and then there's Niagara, but that's still falling, and nobody seems to know when it started, anyway.

Actually, any year is a good time to talk about things that go down (fighting or otherwise), but you have to start sometime, and the week before finals seems as good a time as any.

The year 1963 will ask the same old questions: "What do we do with the world's belligerent trouble spots?" (Laos, Cuba, Harry Truman); and it will give the same old answers: "No" (there's NOT an excuse for campus-cutting that would satisfy God, Oppie and the Alumni Association all at the same time); "Yes" (Virginia, there IS a second semester); "Maybe" (there COULD be a way to cut a cafeteria line without doing the limbo).

But basically, '63 — which just happens to rhyme with "pay TV" and "Robert Lee" for you who plan on becoming poets this year — is a good time to further one's education. And since learning is difficult with only a seven-letter alphabet (which only spells things like "boob" and "egad"), it seems about the right time to bring forth another installment of

ALPHABETTERMENT, Part II

(By the author of "I Used Good English on My Dorm Buddies and Lived")

H is for "halftime," as basketball hobby: the battle's removed from the floor to the lobby;

I means "Impossible": rhymes that don't rhyme, or sending sealed letters at three for a dime, or two dates (with different girls) at the same time, or Ottersberg ending a class right on time;

J is for "Jasper," who saves all his dimes to print his best-seller, "My Life and Hard Times";

K is for "kid stuff," that greasy hair goo that brings the gals running with one dab or two (so use it, 'cause ten thousand greasy kids do!);

L is for "last-chance," that hopeless condition that means "Cram for 12 days; then see your physician."

Ah, togetherness! If they'd stop posting exam schedules, some people would never know what it is.

Knights Travel To Simpson

Simpson is in fifth place in the Iowa Conference standings with a record of three wins and two losses. Wednesday the Knights are again on the road as they face non-conference foe Loras of Dubuque.

Buena Vista came from behind to defeat the Knights, 85-83, at Storm Lake last night in overtime. BV's Jim Dotson hit with 38 seconds left in the game to tie the score at 76-76 and send the game into an extra period.

Dick Point, leading BV scorer with 28 points, scored a field goal and free throw late in the overtime for BV's margin. Leading the Knights against the defending conference champs were junior Al Buenning with 18, senior Dave Brunscheen with 15 and junior Gary Medlang with 13.

Wartburg trailed by three, 50-47, at halftime.

WARTBURG CAGERS played two games on the home court last weekend and came out losing one and winning one. On Friday night the Knights played host to a tough Upper Iowa team and came out second best by a score of 66-64.

Knights were behind throughout the whole game but pulled to within two points when the gun sounded. Dick Ridout led all scorers with 21 points, but it wasn't enough, as UIU had four men in double figures. King was high man for Upper Iowa and second high man of the game with 17 points.

Fine defensive work was again turned in by Al Buenning and Harold Shudlick. They also contributed to the scoring cause at the tune of 10 and 11 points, respectively.

SENIOR DAVE Brunscheen tallied for 9. Sophomore guard Jerome Hemenway hit for six as did reserve center Mo Sathoff. Paul Zietlow rounded out the Knights' scoring attack with one point.

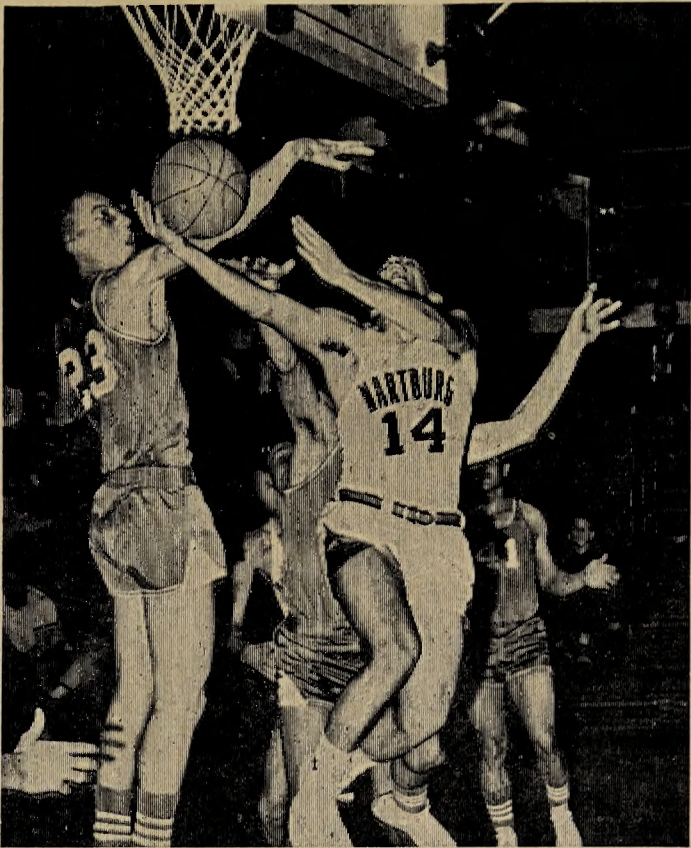

Wartburg had more field goals than did UIU, but the visiting team hit for 18 of 24 all-important free throws while the Knights were making 10 of 15 gift shots.

Saturday night, the Knights again played host to an Iowa Conference team, this time they emerged as victors, for they beat the Dubuque Spartans 75 to 59. Dick Ridout again was high-point man of the night with 17.

KNIGHTS JUMPED off to an early lead, but Dubuque pulled back so that the score was 40 to 34 at the end of the half. Midway through the second period, the Spartans pulled to within a couple of points, but since the visiting team could not come up with the bench strength to equal Wartburg's, they fell behind in the closing minutes.

Knights made 21 of 30 chances at the free-throw line while the visitors hit only 13 of 21.

Wartburg had four men in the double figures as Buenning hit for 13, Brunscheen for 10, and Hemenway had 13 along with Ridout's 17. Shudlick countered for 7, Medlang scored 6, Zietlow had 5 and Sathoff 4.

Dick Ridout, junior guard, lays one up against the Dubuque Spartans. He was one of the big guns in the Knight 75-59 victory.

Basketball Action Opens

Last Thursday night opened the IM Basketball schedule with a full slate of games in the National League. Intramural basketball will be directed this season by Gerald Baldner and Dave Van Ahn.

In the first set of games Married Men and Off Campus III-Grossmann III pulled off one point victories against Ketha and Vollmer houses respectively. The scores were 45-44 and 55-54.

In the second set Clinton I defeated Grossmann II 59-48 and Faculty-Off Campus beat Grossmann I 45-39.

The teams are divided into two leagues, American and National, each league having nine teams. The league play will be round-robin style, letting each team play every other team in its respective league. The top team in each league will advance to a post season inter-league play-off.

Intramural volleyball was brought to a close on Tuesday, December 18, with Vollmer House winning the interleague playoffs with an undefeated record in the round-robin play-off tourney.

COTTA HOUSE took second place honors with a 2-1 record, losing only to Vollmer House. Off-Campus I and Ketha House, with 1-2 and 0-3 records respectively, took third and fourth places. Thus ended a very successful volleyball season under the direction of Don Ringgenberg and Don Deitzler.

COMING UP in the near future will be intramural wrestling and intramural bowling, both to be held some time during the basketball season.

Bowling will be co-educational again this year. Following the intramural basketball season will be co-educational volleyball which is tentatively scheduled for early March.

Freshman Treat Offered For Next Semester's P.E.

By Paul Baumgarten

Freshmen who somehow feel obligated to take P.E. 102 in the coming semester are in for a real treat. A new system of exercises is being instituted by Athletic Director Dave Olson which promises (he says) to make physical fitness fun and easy.

The program to be instituted is the one used by the Royal Canadian Air Force to condition its personnel. It was explained in This Week magazine last year.

The literature I saw contained a set of six charts. Each contained four or five exercises with which the subject was to start slowly. The charts then contained grades by which he was to move up until he was doing the exercise quite fast.

When the person reaches the highest grade on one chart he automatically moves to the lowest grade on a succeeding chart and starts with a new set of exercises, again slowly. In this manner the classes are expected to move through as many of the six charts as possible.

According to Olson, the beauty of the system is that it will take only 11 minutes of class time each day. He also stated that students will be encouraged to keep up with the program on the days when they don't have class.

As a whole, the system seems quite difficult. One of the exercises given on the easiest chart was 800 running in place steps to be done in a period of 6 minutes. Olson commented that to get through all six charts a person will have to be in superb physical condition.

Baumgarten

In the line of old news, the Knight basketball team unexpectedly won the Tall Corn Tournament over the Christmas vacation. The first night Wartburg upset McMurray, and the second night the Knights defeated Cornell, which had previously defeated favored S.C.I.

Fortunes were poorer several nights later as Wartburg lost to South Dakota University 89-69. Of course, it was New Year's Eve.

Thus, with visions of headaches on the rocks (in your case only), I take my leave.

Literary Contest Winners Named

Winners of the Castle literary contest, poetry and prose divisions, have been announced by Louise Loots, Castle editor.

In the prose division there was a tie for first place between Darlene Wesenberg and Kathryn Coffman, a special student. The second and third places were eliminated.

The judges, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Gremmels, felt that the two first place entries were of such superior quality that none of the other prose selections could be compared with them.

Senate Meeting Features Discussion

Discussion highlighted the last Senate meeting on Monday evening, according to Dick Buchsteiner, student body president.

Chief topic concerned the procedure of electing the student body officers. Discussion was held to see how the Senate felt about changing the method.

Opinion of the Senate seemed to bear out the fact that the senators strongly favor changing the election procedure, such as having the president and vice president elected separately, according to Buchsteiner.

"The question that has to be settled now is how to change the election—this will be one of the things the Senate will be deciding in the near future, and I expect a heated discussion as to how to do it," said Buchsteiner. (see article by SBP on page 2)

Senate gave a vote of thanks to Campus Chest chairman Evan Bartelt and Jim Ollenburger for the fine job they had done in conducting the recent drive.

Copies of the College Clippings were distributed. This is a publication made up of news, largely on student government affairs, of the ALC colleges. This is published by the Youth Department of The ALC, and Wartburg is in charge of the selection of articles for this year.

A copy of the Clippings will be posted on the Student Senate bulletin board in the Senate office for anyone interested in reading it.

An evaluation of the Senate Newsletter was given, with suggestions made for its improvement. The next Newsletter will be coming out sometime next week, according to Buchsteiner.

Other business at the meeting included the reading of the ballot for the Spring Pops Concert, which was voted on at the convocation Thursday.

Work Of Artist On Display Here

An exhibition of the works of Helen Gerardia, well-known printmaker and painter of New York, will officially begin tomorrow, according to Miss Helen Wright, Art Department.

Miss Gerardia uses a semi-abstract form, stemming from cubism of Metzinger and Leger. The work is in a highly subjective fashion with the subject matter as part of the structure of her paintings and prints.

At times she employs a geometric optical illusion in compositions where sharply defined geometric elements are massed to suggest mountainous landscapes or with curved forms to suggest still life.

She has exhibited her work throughout the United States and Europe. It is represented in 30 museums and universities and appears in Canada, South America, Israel and Japan.

Who's Who of American Art, Who's Who in the East and Who's Who of American Women, all list Helen Gerardia's name.

The exhibition will be held in the Fine Arts Center for one week.

Convos To View Common Market

The European Common Market will be the theme of convocation programs next week.

Tuesday's convo will feature a film on the European Common Market. The film is entitled "Breaking the Trade Barrier" and was produced by McGraw-Hill. Since the film will take nearly the whole period, the Convocations Committee has asked that students take their places promptly.

Dr. Paul Olson, head of the Department of Economics, State University of Iowa, Iowa City, will speak on Thursday. His topic will be "The United States and the European Common Market."

Dr. Olson has been at the University since 1931, having received all of his education there. He served in the Armed Forces and has contributed articles on economics to several magazines.

Jobs Open

A limited number of openings for student jobs will be available for the second semester, according to Walter Fredrick, business manager.

Students who wish to obtain jobs should leave their names at the business office. Those who receive jobs will be notified, Fredrick said.

Next Film Series Is 'Citizen Kane'

"Citizen Kane," starring Orson Welles, Joseph Cotten and Ray Collins, will be shown Wednesday, Jan. 16, 7:30 p.m., in the Chapel-auditorium, as part of the Film Festival.

Welles has the leading role, as well as being the co-writer and director. The Mercury Players, with Welles during the "radio days," also star in "Citizen Kane," one of the great classics.

Next series in the Film Festival will be the "Bolshoi Ballet," a Russian ballet, being shown Feb. 6, according to Trevor Owen, English Department, in charge of the series.
